DUST 1947 TOURNAMENT CONDUCT POLICY

Slow playing: all tournament games should be played in a timely fashion. Dust 1947 is a fast game that lets you think about your next move while your opponent is playing. A couple of minutes are more than enough to make up your mind, and as a wise general you should follow the battle plan you made up before the start of the game! You are held responsible, to both yourself and to all your opponents, to run your army effectively in the time frame allowed. Slow play will be monitored. Tournament judges reserve the rights to warn and/or dock players for slow play/stalling. Excessive stalling might get you kicked out of the tournament.

Late for your game: if you are not at your table before 10 minutes have passed after the judges have announced the beginning of the Tournament Round, you will forfeit your game.

Last call: the Organizers will give a fifteen minutes warning before the end of a Tournament Round. If you are about to begin a new Turn, don't, unless both opponents are certain to finish it. You can play up to the time limit and finish the activation of the player but not the Turn. Ask a judge if you're not sure.

Rules disputes and knowledge: all players should be very familiar with the rules and therefore there should not be any disputes. Please quickly contact a judge if you have any problem that you cannot resolve with your opponent.

Sportsmanship: good sportsmanship is expected from all attendees of the Tournament. Throwing a fit, acting out against your opponent, incessantly arguing your position with a judge or any other manifestation of poor sportsmanship will not be tolerated. Judges reserve the right to toss out players with no refund who are determined to be causing problems for judges or their opponents.

DUST 1947 EUROPEAN CHAMPIONSHIP SPECIAL TOURNAMENT RULES

UNIT LIMITS

While Dust 1947 encourages you to play the Units you like best in the way that suits you, during a Tournament there are a few specifications that prevent unbalanced games that could ruin anyone's fun.

- Infantry Units, with Armor ranging from 1 to 4, can be selected as many times as the Players wishes, up to the Army Point limit of course.
- Heroes can be selected once each as usual.
- There's a limit for Vehicles however (Ground or Aircraft): there can't be more than three identical Vehicles in a Tournament Army.
- Small Vehicles are an exception: they are very common in battle and as such can be fielded as many times as the Player wishes.
- There's also another limitation for Aircraft: there can't be more than three Aircraft in your army overall. Air support is not as frequent as you might think.
- Units with the Superhuman Skill are not authorized. They are busy saving the World elsewhere!
- only the three Required Units from the SSU Koshka's SMERSH KV-47 Platoon can benefit from Airborne Assault. No Support Unit can benefit from this Platoon Advantage.

LEGAL MINIATURES

Only Dust 1947 miniatures are allowed in a Tournament, proxies from other companies are not legal and won't be accepted by the Tournament Organizers. Small modifications of the miniatures are allowed, as long as they don't give an unfair advantage to the player. Conversions are permitted as long as the majority of the miniature comes from Dust 1947 miniatures parts.

Each Squad or Vehicle must be instantly recognizable by your opponent. Swapping the heads of the soldiers for example is allowed, as long as the weaponry carried and the unit's role are respected. To avoid any unpleasantness or if you're not sure, bring the regular version of the miniature with you. This will clear any problem that might arise. If you have any question, feel free to send a picture of your miniatures before the Tournament to the Organizers. They will make a judgment call if need be and will let you know if your miniatures are legal. All the miniatures in your army must have an official unit card or they can't be played in Tournament.
